A chairde dhílis/Dear friends:

Our Seachtain na Gaeilge will conclude on Saturday, March 16th, at the S.M.A. House, 337 Common Street, Dedham 02026, at 10:00 a.m. with a Mass. This will be immediately followed by breakfast.

We will have the pleasure of listening to four harpists—Janet Baker, Karen Weiland, Mary Beth Melton, and Lucy DeWolf.

We will hear a poem written by Raftery, Seanchas na Sceiche, explained by Jackie Mac Donncha in Irish, and explained in English by Mike Dwyer.

Jackie, who is a renowned and novelist and poet, will be visiting Irish language groups from March 11th through March 15th, including Máire Concannon's class at Catholic Memorial in West Roxbury and Ár dTeanga Féin in Worcester.

We hope that you can join us on March 16th. We look forward to seeing you!

Slán agus beannacht,
